"Memories Again" Set To Open Soon

By Tom Shamanski

Al Acker, a Romulus businessman since 1987, has succeeded in bringing to Romulus an entertainment lounge that is, in a word, fabulous. The establishment, called Memories Again, is located at the intersection of Ecorse and Inkster roads, and is scheduled to open in the very near future.

This is, truly, a place which must be seen to be believed. With a projected final cost of $1.5 million, Acker has obviously spared nothing to make his patrons as comfortable as possible.

The main bar (consisting of 9,000 square feet) cradles, as its focal point, a spacious, 700-square-foot dance floor. The enormous room is done in grays, black, white, and blues, with gray carpeting surrounded by a checkerboard of black and white tiles. Table-and-chairs sets, also in black and gray, will seat up to 280 people.

The 80-foot main bar stretches beyond this room and neatly introduces one to the game room. Additional seating can be found here, along with three pool tables, two dart machines, and a bowling game.

An entire wall in the main room is blanketed by a mural devoted to the "oldies and only oldies" theme of Memories Again. The mural, skillfully done by Toledo artist David Hall, brightly depicts golden Memories of the oldies era.

In his consideration of customer comfort, Acker has included a unique concept of a "bar within a bar." Also known as the Quiet Bar, this plush room overlooks – through several large windows – the main bar and dance floor. The customer can thereby observe the excitement of the dance floor while relaxing in a much quieter atmosphere.

Shades of brown dominate the room, which seats up to 50 people in large, soft, comfortable chairs. Acker credits his mother, Charlotte Johnson, for inspiring the Quiet Bar.

Said Acker, "My mother used to say that the music was too loud at times; because of that, I thought of the Quiet Room concept."

Acker joined the Romulus business community in 1987 when he opened P.J.'s Distillery at the corner of Ecorse and Wayne roads. In 1990, he redecorated the club, adopted DJ (disk jockey) music with an oldies format, and re-opened under the name of Memories. In Memories Again, Acker carries over the DJ/oldies theme, as well as several other features that he first instituted at the original Memories.

The regular DJ will be Arnie Martin, formerly of radio station WHND-AM56, the Detroit-area pioneer of the all-oldies radio format. Martin has been with Acker since the opening of the original Memories. Other DJs, from as far away as Flint, will do occasional guest spots.

Sunday through Tuesday will be karaoke nights, with Acker furnishing complimentary drinks for all participants. Thursday nights will find the ladies being honored and enjoying special drink prices.

From 6 to 10 p.m. on Wednesdays, WHND disk jockey, Fred "Boogie" Brian, will guest-host the popular Cruise Night. Classic-car buffs will polish their cars and come together in Acker's parking lot. The public is always invited to these weekly displays.

Later on Wednesday nights, from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m., the theme will switch to Airport Night. Any Airport employee, either in uniform or showing an appropriate ID badge, will be treated to special drink prices.

Memories Again also has a 3,000-square-foot banquet room, suitable for all occasions.

Private security will be afforded the customers at all times, and ladies can be escorted to their cars. All IDs will be checked at the door.

Acker has logged 17 years in the bar business. Prior to that, he was a Detroit police officer for nine years. After his initial police training, Acker served in several police divisions, including vice, narcotics, harbor-master, and motorized. In 1972, he became one of an original six Detroit Police helicopter pilots.

Drawing a parallel between his police career and his present career, Acker said, "I like variety in what I do; I don't enjoy routine-type work. The bar business, like police work, offers opportunities where you never know what will come up next."

Romulus enjoys Acker's presence in the community, as he employs 20 people during the week and 50 on the weekends. The majority of these workers are from the Romulus area, with many having worked at the first Memories. In a similar vein, Acker sponsors two bowling teams and two women's softball teams.

Acker has three daughters. Gina, 25, manages Memories Again. She lives in Canton with her three-year-old daughter, Kaylee. Tracy, 23, manages another Acker establishment, the Park-Joy Bar on Joy Road in Detroit. Also a full-time University of Michigan student, she will soon graduate with a business degree. Tina, the oldest at 28, lives in Howell with her husband Don and their two children,

Romulus Board of Education Encourages Travel, Visitors

The number of people visiting the Romulus School District has increased dramatically in the last five months, according to Romulus Board of Education President, Edward Wilkerson.

"We are proud that people from all over the Country – and, indeed, the world – want to learn from what has been accomplished so far in our school district," said Wilkerson. "Recently, a couple from New Zealand were among the over 400 people who have visited the School District." The couple observed that, since Romulus students are so advanced in educational technology, they will have the opportunity to use equipment that some students will not be exposed to for many years.

President Wilkerson went on to explain that much of the program's success was due to the Board of Education's willingness to commit bond funds to extensive in-service training and travel for teachers, administrators, support staff, and Board members.

"We've had a small number of phone calls expressing concern about these expenditures," explained Wilkerson, "but we've explained that we have been sending people throughout the Country to come back and report what would be best for our district to prepare for the twenty-first century."

As an example of the need for travel, Wilkerson cited a visit by Board and staff to a school in Port Huneme, California. Romulus has adopted the California model, which is now the cornerstone of the elementary technology program. Explained Wilkerson, "The State of California developed Port Huneme over a 10-year period to create a model technology program and, while California has done little or nothing with this program, Romulus has adopted some parts of it to become a model for the Country."

Local, state, and National conferences were also attended by Board members and employees to further define the vision of the new technology. "It would have been impossible to make right and proper decisions without this travel and investigation," Wilkerson stated. "In order to eliminate – or at least minimize – the probability of mistakes, the Board agreed early on that all decisions had to be educated ones, based on fact, research, and evaluation."

Since the successful bond election in November of 1990, thousands of hours have been spent by the Romulus Community Schools learning, questioning, traveling, debating, and approving major changes in the School District. The District anticipates that, during the next half-decade, Romulus will become the focus of visitation by people from all over the world.

"There are people with limited vision who will only focus on the relatively small amount of resources spent for travel and in-service," he explained. "Our board of education was determined to have the courage to try to make a difference for the education of Romulus students."

Wilkerson finished by saying that the costs for travel, workshops, and conferences are appropriate expenses taken from the bond money.

"No money was taken from the general operating fund to finance these investigations," he concluded. □

Shopping for Retirement

By Tom Shamanski

This is how I want things when I retire. First, I want the Social Security Administration to at least triple the money to which I'm entitled. Also, I want someone from the Department of Supermarkets to provide me with a person who will do my grocery shopping. Last of all, I want—and I don't care who furnishes this—a beautiful, 25-year-old woman to come to my house, as needed, to clean.

* * *

Although I basically follow a simple life-style, I'll need the extra Social Security money to get a few things that are necessary for retirement. For example, I want a motorized golf cart.

No, I don't golf; haven't since I got so frustrated that I hit a golf pro in the shins with a rake. This is somewhat embarrassing to admit now, but, after 12-putting a green, I treed a golf pro who compared my golfing to Michael Jackson. We were both bad, he said.

Actually, I cracked his shins as he was coming down the tree. . . . Poor guy, I'd promised him that I wouldn't do that. He, in turn, promised that he wouldn't sue. Of course, I'm still appealing.

Anyway, I'll use the golf cart to putt around the neighborhood track. I walk too much, anyway.

Another reason that I'll need extra money is that, after retirement, I plan to find, and claim, 40% of a kid. We all know that each couple in the United States has approximately 2.4 children. Well, I've got the two, but, somewhere along the way, I lost out on my fractional kid.

Now, many people may think that this is rather silly; but what if my partial kid wins the Lotto, or discovers a miracle cure, or even brushes his/her teeth? And even if my kid doesn't do all this stuff, I'd still want him/her around to stretch my patience—which, I'm told, is the latest exercise fad.

* * *

Grocery shopping is the pits; it strips more years off your life expectancy than smoking guns. That means that, when I retire, someone had better do the marketing for me, or Kathleen Turner will inherit a brand-new golf cart. (She's my secret love; I'm hoping that putting her in my Last Will will, at last, impress her.)

You see, I'd rather tweak a killer bee's nose than go grocery shopping. At least, with killer bees, your demise is quick. I have, at times, spent more time shopping for food than preparing it, eating it, and working to pay for it.

Anymore, it seems that the labels on food packages are read more than smutty, unauthorized biographies. Plus, some markets now attach calculators to their shopping carts. It has become a real challenge, making your way through the aisles with everyone reading, calculating, and sharing.

"Listen, get the store brand on that; it's cheaper and just as good."

"Gosh, thanks for sharing that."

Once you arrive at the check-out, you could stay there long enough to have a mid-life crisis because gravity has pulled your jowls down several more inches.

"Will you accept a check?"

"Certainly. We just need a picture ID, your past four tax returns, a lien on your house, a statement of fiscal responsibility, and three personal references."

"I'll pay cash, instead."

"Cash?"

* * *

The reason for having a pretty young woman come to clean my house is quite simple. By the time I'll get what I want to retire, I'll need a pretty good reason to stay awake. □

Here Comes the Circus!

By Lynn Carver

Don't make plans for the evening of August 20, 1992, because the circus is coming to town!

According to Mark Lewkowicz of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce, the Francin Brothers Circus will roll into town the morning of Thursday, August 20, and will set up for two shows — one at 5:30 p.m. and a second at 8 p.m.

Lewkowicz appeared before the Romulus City Council on April 27, 1992, to gain Council's approval of the Chamber's fund-raising circus project and to obtain the necessary no-fee permits. This, he told Council, will be a real circus, complete with wild animals and professional showmen.

The circus will be held on the football field at the old South Junior High School site on Olive Street. Seating will accommodate 1,200 people.

Tickets will be $5 in advance; $6 at the gate. Lewkowicz noted that the Chamber will realize most of its revenue from advance ticket sales, so let's get our tickets beforehand to thank the Chamber of Commerce for bringing the circus to town! □

Baseball and Softball Teams Bow to Ann Arbor Pioneer

By Fred Coleman, CAA, Athletic Director, Romulus Community Schools

The State Tournament was very short-lived for both the baseball and softball teams this year, as each drew Ann Arbor Pioneer in the first round and found them very difficult to handle.

Seniors Jennifer Trueman and Jenny McClure led the Eagles into the contest with Pioneer and, with help from Crystal Stevenson, put the Eagles on top in the first inning.

Unfortunately, that old nemesis of shaky defense came back to haunt the Eagles, and a series of errors and mistakes saw the Pioneers regain the lead as they pushed toward their 16-3 victory.

The softball program has three remaining dates left on the 1992 schedule: at home on Wednesday, May 20, at 4 p.m. vs. Robichaud; at Taylor Truman on Tuesday, May 26, at 3:30 p.m.; and at home on Wednesday, May 27, at 3:30 p.m. vs. New Boston (doubleheader).

Charlie Dudonis had three hits and three RBI for the baseball team in its effort to defeat Ann Arbor, but solid hitting and a couple of Eagle mistakes let the Pioneers capture the pre-District game by a score of 7-4.

The Eagles' season record moved to 6-6 with the loss, but Coach Don Foley has reason to feel good about the season.

"We are playing a lot of underclassmen this season, and, even though we have lost a number of games to bad weather, the experience that these juniors are receiving should truly help next season to be an exciting one."

Tim Dufore and Bob Bergeron did the pitching for the Eagles in the Pioneer game, and both had excellent outings despite the final results.

Dudonis led the hitting attack with a single, triple, and home run, while teammates Chris Evans, Rick Luszak, and John Toliver added hits for the Eagles.

Recent wins over Ann Arbor Huron and Milan were sparked by the pitching of Dufore and junior Ron Yount, while Dudonis and senior Mark Hardin contributed to the offense in these victories.

Having an outstanding season for the Eagles is senior Tim Dufore, whose recent hitting streak of 7-for-15 has moved his average up to close to .490 for the season.

"Tim has the skills to help some college team both defensively and offensively. Our biggest concern now is getting him noticed this summer because there is no doubt that his abilities on the field and in the classroom are those that some colleges are looking to add to their program."

The baseball team has two home dates remaining on this year's schedule: Wednesday, May 20, at 3:30 p.m. vs. Ann Arbor Huron; and Wednesday, May 27, at 3:30 vs. New Boston (the final game to be played on the current Charlie Lau field).

A new baseball field and softball field are currently under construction in the same area, and will be rededicated to Mr. Lau during the 1993 season. □

1992-1993 Athletes Will Need Sports Physicals To Compete

By Fred Coleman, CAA, Athletic Director, Romulus Community Schools

Parents and students are reminded that, in order for student athletes to compete in the Romulus Community Schools athletic programs, they must have a physical dated after May 15, 1992.

Trainer Cindy Robinson and the staff from the Riverside Osteopathic Sports Medicine Clinic will perform physical examinations for all athletes on Thursday, June 4, 1992, for a cost of only $3 per student. This physical, which will cover the entire 1992-1993 school year's athletic seasons, is strongly recommended for all Romulus athletes, especially those who are planning to compete in a fall athletics program.

Athletes planning on attending the June 4 physicals should stop by the Athletics Office to obtain a parent permission form authorizing the physical.

Student athletes who wish to obtain a physical from their family doctor should pick up a school physical form from the Athletics Office.

Students are also reminded that the Romulus Adolescent Health Center also provides physicals to students. Appointments may be made by calling the Center at 941-1400.

Any questions concerning physicals should be directed to me, Fred Coleman, at 941-3414.

Fall sports begin August 10, 1992. You cannot practice without a physical. Get it now and avoid possible conflicts in the fall. □

1992 RHS Tennis Season Comes To a Close!

By Fred Coleman, CAA, Athletic Director, Romulus Community Schools

Last weekend's Regionals in Trenton brought the 1992 tennis season to a close. (Regionals scores not available at press time.)

Coach Dan Stearn is not overjoyed with his team's 4-11 record, but stated, "Improvement is showing in all of these young men, and, with virtually everybody returning next year, you can't help but feel good about the future."

Leaving this year's program will be Lajuan McCain, Dale Gehringer, and Mike Scully. The rest of the Eagle lineup will be back, and with Johnny Buckley (number-one singles), Jon Devereaux (number-two singles), and Brian Molenda (number-three singles) all returning, the 1993 season should be one to look forward to.

Keith Parks and Ray Osak are really developing into a great number-one doubles team. Said Stearn, "As these two mature, they could become possibly the best doubles team that this program has ever seen. They work together as well as any two players I've ever had, and with just a bit more technique development and game experience, these two are going to be very tough to beat."

The new tennis courts at the High School complex have the players – both male and female – very excited about next season. Tennis is not a major sport in Romulus... YET! Coach Stearn and these fine athletes hope to turn that situation around in the next couple of years – and if this season is any indication of that turnaround, then next year ought to be interesting for our tennis program. □

Former Romulus High School Student-Athletes Are Doing Well!

By Fred Coleman, CAA, Athletic Director, Romulus Community Schools

Ricky Rogalla, a 1991 graduate of Romulus High School, helped the bowling team from West Texas State University to a National Championship last month.

Ricky held a 219 average for the 1992 season and was the number-three bowler in the lineup.

Since this year's number-one and number-two spots were occupied by seniors, it appears that Ricky has a good opportunity to become the number-one bowler as he and his teammates attempt to defend their championship in 1993.

RHS Scholar-Athlete for 1991,

Jennifer Daniel, recently participated with her Wayne State teammates in the NCAA Softball Regionals.

Jennifer went 6-for-9 at the plate for the weekend, and her outstanding defensive play in center field led to her selection to the All-Tournament team for 1992.

Jennifer also received her scholastic report from Wayne State recently, and found that she had maintained a 3.75 grade-point average for her freshman year.

Congratulations to both of these fine student-athletes. We hope that the remainder of their college careers are as successful as the initial year has so obviously been. □

Class of '66 Stays Involved

By Dorothy Murray

Romulus High School's Class of 1966 has always distinguished itself in education and in athletics. At its twenty-fifth class reunion in October of 1991, the members of the class made some very profound decisions. They wanted to give something back to the community which had given so much to them. First, they would donate funds for a scholarship to be awarded to a graduating senior from the Class of 1992 who expressed interest in becoming a teacher; second, they would enter a running team in the Romulus 10K race during Michigan Week.

The first charge was easy: the class was able to generate an additional $1,000 for the scholarship fund. The second charge was a bit more arduous, as the classmates, all well beyond the age of 40, had to train vigorously over the next several months in preparation for the 6.2-mile run.

At the High School's annual awards program, held May 13, Susan Arquette was awarded the $1,000 scholarship in memory of those members of the Class of '66 who are now deceased. Sue had expressed a desire to enter the field of teaching after having been influenced by her kindergarten teacher, Rose Raspberry, who continues to teach at Barth Elementary School in Romulus.

The Class of '66 running team, comprised of Frank Zarzycki, Ron West, Pat Twitchell, Richard Suiter, and Dorothy Murray, did enter the 10K Run, garnering a respectable third-place finish in the Romulus Community Pride Run, which was held on May 16. □

Teen Talk: Health

Battling Adolescent Smoking

By Natalia M. Tanner, MD, FAAP, Medical Director, Romulus Adolescent Health Center

Romulus High School has one of the greatest preventable health problems that exists today: that is, tobacco use. A survey done in the School on the Great Smoke-out Day (November 21, 1991) revealed that approximately 22.5% of the 427 students who completed the questionnaire smoked cigarettes. Most of the students had smoked for 2.6 years; 66.3% reported that the person closest to them smoked, as did 40% of biological parents and 29% of grandparents. A significant number of teachers and staff in the School also have the smoking habit. Romulus High School does not have a smoke-free faculty. We have a serious School and Community health problem.

More than 3,000 teenagers become smokers each day in the United States. The average starting age is 12.5 years, and 80% of adult smokers started as teenagers. Ninety percent of smokeless-tobacco users started as teens. Approximately 100,000 children between the ages of 10 and 13 years smoke. Teens start smoking because of peer pressure and because they come from smoking families.

Tobacco use is related to additional problems as well: low-birth-weight babies, chronic lung disease, heart disease, and cancer.

The Romulus Adolescent Health Center conducts an ongoing anti-smoking project in conjunction with the Michigan Cancer Institute, the Michigan Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics, and the Michigan Chapter of the Society for Adolescent Medicine. The latter two organizations have adopted adolescent smoking as their priority advocacy issue for 1992-1993.

This year, we have had a display of the Michigan Cancer Institute's anti-smoking educational materials throughout the High School.

We have instituted peer-training workshops for volunteer students to provide a combination of information and skill-building exercises. The ninth-grade classes are our target student population, since they have the lowest incidence of tobacco use.

The goals of our peer-training program are:

- to provide facts and information on teens who smoke;
- to impact the behavior and attitudes of younger students "at risk" of smoking in the future;
- to create an awareness of intervention and treatment programs for adolescents who smoke;
- to enhance the total anti-smoking project at Romulus High School, with the goal of creating a smoke-free environment; and
- to build a sense of information, confidence, and youth empowerment, and to help peer anti-smoking trainers gain the skills and confidence needed to educate their peers.

In the fall of 1992, we anticipate bringing our Romulus Adolescent Health Center anti-smoking project into the Romulus community with the involvement of many agencies, churches, and community groups.

* * *

The Romulus Adolescent Health Center is located in Romulus High School, 9650 South Wayne Road. The Center serves Romulus residents - students and nonstudents - between the ages of 10 and 21, and special-education students to age 26. Children to age five can receive immunizations. Blue Cross, Medicaid, and private insurances are accepted. Fees are affordable and vary according to the patient's ability to pay. No one is denied services if unable to pay. Appointments are usually necessary; some walk-ins are accepted. Parents must sign a consent form for their child to be seen at the Center. Call 941-1400 for appointments or information.

The Romulus Adolescent Health Center Advisory Council meets on the fourth Tuesday of each month at 3 p.m. Meetings are held at Romulus High School and are open to the public. □

Long-term Care Planning

By Timothy R. Rosiak, Certified Financial Planner

In my last article, we discussed the way that Medicare – both Part A (Hospital Coverage) and Part B (Medical Coverage) – works. We also noted that Medicare only pays up to 100 days for a skilled nursing-home stay.

Many people today are concerned about ways to offset the enormous bills (as high as $3,000 per month) that nursing homes charge their patients. They realize that they have saved all their lives, and do not wish to squander their hard-earned money on a nursing home.

One of the best ways to protect against this risk is to transfer this risk to an insurance company which offers long-term care insurance. In a recent article, written by Jane Bryant Quinn, she states that, "One in four of everyone over 65 will enter a nursing home for at least a year, and one in 10 for five years or more!"

Once you have received pertinent information from at least five different carriers, make sure that the policy covers all areas, such as skilled care, intermediate care, custodial care, Alzheimers, waiver of premium, no prior hospitalization confinement before benefits begin, and guaranteed renewability.

After you have analyzed the benefits, take a good, strong look at the company. Some questions to ask: Are they an "A+" rated company? Are they reputable? How long have they been offering long-term care insurance? Is their plan offered and accepted in every state?

What does coverage cost? For a basic policy with a five-year benefit, it would cost a 55-year-old about $432/year; a 60-year-old would pay approximately $600/year; and a 65-year-old would pay about $900/year.

Who needs protection? Virtually everyone with assets worth between $100,000 and $1,000,000 (not counting their home) needs protection if they want to preserve those assets for their heirs. Quinn noted that, if you have under $100,000, look to Medicaid to pick up the tab when your money runs out.

Advice: Definitely look into a long-term care program if you are age 50 or over with assets that you would like to pass on to your spouse, children, favorite charity, etc. In my financial planning department at Mutual of Omaha, we are doing quite a bit of work these days with individuals and long-term care programs. If you would like a little advice regarding this matter, then please drop me a note: Tim Rosiak, 39555 Orchard Hill Drive, #345, Novi, MI 48375; or you can call and ask for me at (313) 347-3437. All consultations are always free of charge.

Plan for the future by looking into the future and seeing where you want to be and what you want to do. If you put your mind and heart into it, you can accomplish anything! □

Happy Birthday, Jack Shick

Sharon Shick Dyer

It was just seventy years ago today, a blond-haired boy came Romulus way. He was full of mischief and fun – Merl and Pearle Shick's second son.

They sent him to school for learning's sake. He terrorized the girls with garter snakes.

They knew high school would increase his mental power; the heights he went to was the Belleville water tower.

He did bring them some credit and fame – he excelled at sports; that was his game.

Football, track, and more pranks on girls; he was taking the town with a whirl.

He loved music, especially big bands; drumsticks were natural in his hands. He became an accomplished drummer; music was his forte, winter or summer.

Soon another love he was embracing – the exciting sport of auto racing. He put cars together and drove with great speed. He patiently rebuilt them as there was need.

And one day he also became a dad. Racing was very natural for his young lad. That boy, Gene, is now tall and grown, and has a car shop all his own.

So along with his son and many friends, this poem the warmest of greetings sends.

And all I have to say by this little piece is "Happy Birthday, Uncle Jack – I'm so proud to be your 'new niece'."

Editor's note: Sharon Shick Dyer is Jack Shick's niece, the daughter of his older brother, Don, now deceased. Jack Shick and Sharon Dyer met for the first time in July, 1991. Sharon Dyer is a published freelance writer and songwriter.

"I'm a Special Grandparent at Cory Elementary"

By Deena Houston

Being a grandmother of six, I felt such a kinship as I greeted and watched about 250 grandparents enter the Cory Elementary School gymnasium, which was beautifully decorated in our honor, on the morning of Friday, May 8, 1992. As the students assembled in the gym and sat or stood near their grandparents, pride and love was there. It was like looking in a mirror, so reflective was that love. One had only to look at the number in attendance to know that a special bond exists between a grandparent and grandchild.

Needless to say, a "mini" breakfast, a special program, visits to the classrooms, and picture-taking sessions ensured that a good time was had by everyone in attendance.

Final Cory PTO Meeting

Cory Elementary School's PTO will hold its final meeting of the school year on Tuesday, May 26, at 7 p.m. Please plan to be in attendance, as we will install new officers at that meeting. Support your school's PTO.

To all who helped to make Grandparents Day such a success, I would like to say "thank you" for sharing with us and with your grandchildren.

One final comment: The Cory PTO isn't just for parents and teachers. As a grandparent, I'm the vice-president of the Cory PTO.

Please come out and join us on Tuesday, May 26. □

A Day in May

The trees are green with buds again;
Some have leaves quite small.
The stillness of the meadow breaks
When birds begin to call.

Some flowers bloom conspicuous
Within the sprouting grass:
A glade so calm beneath the wood,
A picture cased in glass.

The footpath slightly trodden
Seems to end where peace begins;
Where no one heard of sorrows,
Nor a world of many sins.

To lie upon this carpet
In this fairyland of joy;
To sleep in nature's pocket
Like a tired little boy.

The narrow, winding trail
That has led me here this day,
I hope to find again quite soon
In this sweet month of May.

Edward A. Kind

Anglers Taking Good Walleye Catches

By Captain Ron Dubsky, Ice Breaker II Sport-fishing Charters (941-3529)

The Walleye Are Back

Lake Erie is producing fine catches of good-eating walleye. Three of my first four trips have produced wall mounts, as walleye over nine pounds have met the wall.

Ice Breaker recently took out Terry Mills, Steve Glenn, and their group; as you can see by the photo, the afternoon's catch was less than spectacular. No excuse, but it was a beautiful day and the fish would not cooperate. Let's hope that Terry and Steve don't read this article, because the very next day we had two trips, and each trip limited out (largest fish weighed in at six pounds).

Trolling has been the most successful way to fish. Water depths of 10 to 13 feet have been most productive. The bait that we have been using are the Storm Thunder Sticks and Trouble Shooters; colors have been black and white. Try the Trouble Shooters; sold only at the Fishin' Hole in Taylor, they have proved to be excellent bait. Trolling speed should be about 2.0 to 2.4 miles per hour.

Belleville Lake Report

Crappie are finally hitting off the banks – nothing very large, but mighty fine eating. Suckers are slow at the foot of Ford Dam. Ford Lake is reporting great catches of all types of fish.

Don't forget the Tuesday-night bass tournaments on Belleville Lake. Call South Street Tackle for information.

That's all for now. Don't forget: Take a kid fishing. □

Terry Mills and Steve Glenn – two of Romulus' finest.
